Young Professor

ACTIVITIES

Federico is 30 years old and lives in the suburbs of Turin metropolitan city. He believes that the teacher's profession goes beyond the simple frontal lesson: he wants to become a guide for its students. To achieve this goal, he is interested in exploiting technologic innovation as a way to stay closer with its younger students.

GOALS AND DESIRES

Federico wants to provide information about didactics and marks in real-time without necessarily being at school and neither time restrictions. At the same time, he wants not spent all its free time, doing this operation in a flexible way occupying mostly dead times.

DIGITAL TOOLS

NEEDS

- Federico needs a fast, always available application to use the educational services. Possibly, this application has to working on all tech devices.
- He would like to have a channel to talk to his students outside school hours.

OBSTACLES AND FRUSTRATIONS

- There is still too much paper material, even bulky, not digitally available to provide helpful service.
- He wants not to waste time and get nervous with not user-friendly and heavy interfaces.

I like to maintain a direct and dynamic dialogue with my students, also using new technologies
